DECLARES EXISTENCE OF WAR

King Peter of Serbia Issues Proclamation to His People Announcing Rupture With Bulgaria—Stories of Terrible Atrocities Are Filtering Through From Scenes of Actual Fighting.

London, July 9.—The Balkan war having now been regularized by formal declarations it is understood that the powers will make no attempt to mediate. The Official Gazette of Belgrade published notice of a formal declaration of war against Bulgaria.

Servian dispatches admit a strong Bulgarian column has invaded Serbia at Konagevatz, which town they occupied after setting fire to the adjacent villages.

AWFUL SCENES AT KILKISH

Bulgarians Accused of Massacre of Men and Women.

Saloniki, July 9.—Father Michel, superior of the French Catholic mission at Kilkish, confirms reports of massacres committed in that district by Bulgarian irregulars.

In one instance they burned to death 700 men belonging to Kurkut by imprisoning them in a mosque under which they exploded bombs, setting the building on fire. They had previously assembled the victim's wives and daughters to witness the spectacle.

Even more terrible scenes were enacted at Kilkish, Planitz and Raynovo, women also being burned to death.

Father Michel asserts that among the irregulars responsible for these atrocities were business and professional men and students from Sofia.

KING PETER DECLARES WAR

Servian Monarch Bitterly Denounces Bulgarians.

Belgrade, July 9.—King Peter has issued a proclamation to his people, announcing war, in which he says:

"The Bulgarians, forgetful of the Servians' brotherly help and the blood of the heroes who fell on the Thracian battlefields, have given the Slavonic nations and the civilized world an abominable example of ingratitude and greediness."

The Bulgarians are fiercely attacking Pirot, on the Belgrade-Sofia railway.

SIMMONS TRICKS LEADERS

Gets Republican Analysis of Democratic Tariff Bill.

Washington, July 9.—Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, turned a trick on Republican leaders when he got his hands on a lengthy analysis of the Democratic tariff bill which had been prepared under the direction of Senator Smoot, pointing out what the Republicans claim are serious defects in the measure.

Senator Smoot had delayed for a month the introduction of the analysis despite insistence of Senator Simmons that it be printed.

On the last day of the caucus, when Republicans were assured that the Democrats were through with the bill, Senator Smoot consented to send the document in for the printer.

But the Democrats have not yet printed their bill and have a day or two to make corrections and laugh at their opponents, inasmuch as debate will not begin until next week.

FEWER AUTOS ARE IMPORTED

Treasury Figures Show Large Trade Decrease.

New York, July 9.—The United States treasury has been enriched during the past decade to the extent of $10,123,427 in duties upon foreign built automobiles brought into this port. In the period named 8,774 machines of all classes were imported here, aggregating $22,507,615 in appraised foreign value, subject to a duty of 45 per cent.

The statistics prepared at the customs house show that during the past three fiscal years ending June 30 the importation of automobiles has fallen off. In 1912, for instance, 826 cars were imported, as compared with 1,381 in 1909.

OPPOSES SCHMEDEMAN.

Christiania, Norway, July 9.—The Morgenbladet considers the appointment of Albert Schmedeman as minister to Norway "extremely unfortunate." It adds that influential American Norwegians are taking steps to oppose Mr. Schmedeman's confirmation and points out that he has had no experience in public affairs and never held office.

Lynch of Syracuse, president of the International Typographical union, for the position.

Attorney General Probes Bell Interests Out West.

Washington, July 9.—Attorney General McReynolds has practically finished his investigation of the telephone situation on the Pacific coast and will determine shortly whether the government shall prosecute the Bell interests in attempts to monopolize the long distance telephone business of independents in Washington, California and other far Western states.

C. J. Smyth, former attorney general of Nebraska and special assistant to Mr. McReynolds, has reported to the attorney general the results of an extensive investigation he has made of the situation.

Protests have been received by the department of justice from independents and much evidence collected by a grand jury inquiry at Seattle some months ago.

As the grand jury did not return indictments it is believed that if the government acts it will be through a civil anti-trust suit.

The particular point which Attorney General McReynolds is analyzing is the acquisition by the Bell interests of the Northwest Long Distance company and its allied smaller concerns operating in California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Montana and Colorado.

The Bell interests, it is said, have acquired the stocks of these concerns, but have not yet taken over the physical properties because of state litigation.

HOW WILSON WILL PASS THE SUMMER

President Will Forego Vacation to Help Congress.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS ACTIVE.

Senator Gallinger Will Not Fight For Re-election—Forestry Reservations Being Made in All States and Will Be National Parks—Borah Wins Out by Keeping His Temper.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 9.—[Special.]—When congress remained in session a long time during the administration of President Cleveland that executive would lie himself to Buzzard's Bay and enjoy an outing. Few presidents have publicly shown so much contempt for congress as Cleveland. Congressmen bored him. He disliked their continual quest for places. This applied particularly to senators. During his last term Cleveland had serious ruptures with the large majority of his own party, and consequently his manner became more distant.

President Wilson will make trips to his summer home no doubt, but he will not remain long away while congress is working on the tariff and currency bills. He has promised to stay with them and help them, and he meant just what he said. The president has methods of recreation; he plays a little golf; he can go out sailing on the Mayflower or take trips through the country in an automobile with congenial companions and thus while away the hot summer days and evenings.

The Anti-Suffragists.

The anti-suffragists say they are going to make an active campaign hereafter and meet the suffragists at every point, more particularly as regards the effort to put through a constitutional amendment giving women the ballot. The apparent indifference of the women who do not want the ballot, as shown up to the present time, has led many congressmen to accept what they believed to be the inevitable and support the proposed amendment.

Men in congress hesitate to vote contrary to an active, persistent element among the women, believing that opposition to those women will cost them votes in the future. On that account suffrage has made large gains in congress.

Will Not Scramble.

Senator Gallinger takes a very dignified position in regard to the New Hampshire senatorship. His term will expire in 1915, and the election will occur next year. He has been elected four times, the first after quite a contest, the three subsequent times without any effort on his part and by the unanimous vote of the Republicans in the legislature. And after twenty-four years' service in the senate he is not going into a rough and tumble fight for another election. If he is chosen by his party he would feel proud of the honor, but he cannot see how he will be honored if he enters a general scramble for the position.

Forestry Extensions.

In the course of time there will be forestry reservations in all the states, according to the land purchases that are being made from time to time. These reservations will be national parks and no doubt popular in the states. That will insure more support for the forestry service and conservation methods which are carried on under forestry auspices.

Reconciliation Work.

Some of the old time Republicans assert that Jim Mann as minority leader is doing his share toward reconciling the factions of the Republican party. He made no distinction between regulars and near insurgents when he made up the Republican membership of committees. Many good committee places fell to men who did not support the regular organization during the last days of Speaker Cannon and the first term of Mann as minority leader. Mann was particularly kind to Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa members, who have in times past shown a disposition to "jump the track" when the organization was hard pressed.

Keeping His Temper.

Senator Borah has been successful in getting legislation enacted because he remains calm and never seems to be peeved at the opposition tactics of other senators who may be opposing him. "That is what I learned when practicing law," said the Idaho senator. "When I was young and had more time to watch trials than participate in them I observed that the lawyers who kept their temper, refused to get angry and excited were more successful than the petulant, irascible men. I have always made it a point to preserve an outward exterior, although at times it is very trying."

What Pence Is Doing.

I asked Tom Pence, the man who gained fame as the publicity man of the Wilson campaign, what the organization over which he was exercising supervisory direction was doing. It was supposed to be working for future Democratic success and improving the organization. "Principally we are trying to get money," replied Pence. "and that is pretty hard in an off year. We don't want to assess officeholders, and there seems to be no other source of revenue."

MILLIONS FOR STEEL CITY

Trust Head Says $20,000,000 Will Be Spent Near Duluth.

Duluth, July 9.—President James A. Farrell of the United States Steel corporation and his party of steel men and their wives returned from an inspection of the corporation's mine lease on the Minnesota ranges.

An inspection of the new plant outside of Duluth was made.

"We will expend $20,000,000 altogether on the Duluth plant," said Mr. Farrell. "In addition to a model town at Gary we will build a $2,000,000 cement plant, with a capacity of 40,000 barrels a day as a side line."

INSPECTORS WILL LOOK OVER PLANTS

Three Professors to Inspect Packing Concerns.

Washington, July 9.—Meat packing establishments throughout the country are to be subjected to searching inspections by well known experts selected by the secretary of agriculture from outside of the government service.

This step follows criticism of federal meat inspection from various sources and Secretary Houston announced that its object was to increase the efficiency of the service and to foster public confidence.

The secretary made public the names of three college professors who have been chosen to report to him personally upon conditions existing in packing plants in New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Illinois and Missouri.

Dr. W. T. Sedgwick, professor of bacteriology and sanitary engineering in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is to investigate plants at Boston, Worcester and Brighton, Mass., and New Haven, Conn.; Dr. V. A. Moore, professor of pathology at Cornell university, will go to Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo and Pittsburgh; and Dr. J. A. Connaway of Missouri agricultural college to Kansas City, St. Louis and St. Joseph, Mo., and National stock yards, Illinois.

"It is my desire," said the secretary in his instructions to the experts, "that you report to me fully and frankly the conditions as you find them at the packing establishments, together with such recommendations looking to the improvement of the service as in your judgment may seem best."

WILL PROBE BANK FAILURE

Attorney General Will Look Into Pittsburgh Institution.

Washington, July 9.—Secretary McAdoo will ask Attorney General McReynolds within a few days to investigate alleged irregularities in the conduct of the First-Second National bank of Pittsburgh which closed its doors Monday.

The secretary definitely decided to refer the situation to the department of justice and is collecting all facts connected with the management of the bank to prepare the attorney general for an inquiry designed to develop whether there was any violation of law in connection with the failure.

John Skelton Williams, assistant secretary of the treasury, returned from Pittsburgh, where he superintended the closing of the bank and reported that the institution had been seriously mismanaged.

General Bell Describes Capture of Moro Position.

TROOPS BEHAVE ADMIRABLY

War Department Makes Public Report of General Pershing's Defeat of Philippine Savages on the Island of Jolo After Five Days' Fighting. Some of Which Was Hand to Hand.

Washington, July 9.—A hair raising story of hand to hand conflict with the spear hurling Moros savages, of the battle to the death on an isolated mountain top with no quarter given or expected, was cabled to the war department from the Philippines by Major General Bell.

It was the commanding general's report on the campaign of Brigadier General Pershing, which resulted in the extermination of the last considerable band of rebellious Moros and the complete disarmament of this warlike tribe.

Long ago most of the Moros gave up their arms peacefully, but the fierce tribesmen of Lati Ward, embracing about twenty square miles on the northern coast of the island of Jolo, made ready for war whenever there was a suggestion of depriving them of their weapons.

Recently nearly 10,000 of them stampeded to Mount Bagsak, a wild peak which they believed impregnable.

Many conferences and patient diplomacy drew most of them away and sent them to their homes, but 300 or 400 of the most desperate fortified their stronghold and prepared to fight it out with the American nation.

Pershing Surrounds Moros.

"When no reasonable hope of a peaceful conclusion remained," says General Bell, "Brigadier General Pershing arrived at Jolo with boats during the night of June 10, secretly embarking his command and landing near by, surrounded Bagsak the same night to prevent a stampede of the women and children and noncombatants to the mountain again.

"Assaults began at daylight with fierce fighting, part of it hand to hand, during five days marked by tenacious resistance and counter attacks from Moros rushing on troops with barongs and hurling spears at the storming lines.

"The control of troops by the officers was admirable, thus preventing a greater number of casualties. The enemy was completely defeated and all the strongholds were finally taken.

"None of the Moros would surrender; some escaped, but the remainder were killed, including Amil and his principal lieutenants.

"Our mountain guns were dragged up the mountain by block and tackle, finally reaching commanding positions and rendered material assistance. Officers and men behaved with admirable courage and determination, though on duty five days and nights of little rest and torrential rains."

GREEK SHOTS CIRCUS MEN

Two of Four Wounded in Andover Riot May Die.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 9.—Tom Stevens, a Greek, it is charged, shot four circus employees in a fight at Andover between a gang of railroad laborers and the circus men.

Two of the wounded men in a hospital here may die. A third was taken with the circus when it left Andover. A fourth is in a hospital at Webster suffering with a broken leg and a broken arm.

According to accounts of the fight the circus men began the trouble. The railroad laborers, most of them Greeks, retreated toward their bunkhouse. The circus men followed, and it is said, began a bombardment of the house with stones.

Stevens obtained a revolver and opened fire. Four of five shots hit members of the besieging party.

President Wilson will make trips to his summer home no doubt, but he will not remain long away while congress is working on the tariff and currency bills. He has promised to stay with them and help them, and he meant just what he said. The president has methods of recreation; he plays a little golf; he can go out sailing on the Mayflower or take trips through the country in an automobile with congenial companions and thus while away the hot summer days and evenings.

The Anti-Suffragists. The anti-suffragists say they are going to make an active campaign hereafter and meet the suffragists at every point, more particularly as regards the effort to put through a constitutional amendment giving women the ballot. The apparent indifference of the women who do not want the ballot, as shown up to the present time, has led many congressmen to accept what they believed to be the inevitable and support the proposed amendment. Men in congress hesitate to vote contrary to an active, persistent element among the women, believing that opposition to those women will cost them votes in the future. On that account suffrage has made large gains in congress.

Will Not Scramble. Senator Gallinger takes a very dignified position in regard to the New Hampshire senatorship. His term will expire in 1915, and the election will occur next year. He has been elected four times, the first after quite a contest, the three subsequent times without any effort on his part and by the unanimous vote of the Republicans in the legislature. And after twenty-four years' service in the senate he is not going into a rough and tumble fight for another election. If he is chosen by his party he would feel proud of the honor, but he cannot see how he will be honored if he enters a general scramble for the position.

Forestry Extensions.

In the course of time there will be forestry reservations in all the states, according to the land purchases that are being made from time to time. These reservations will be national parks and no doubt popular in the states. That will insure more support for the forestry service and conservation methods which are carried on under forestry auspices.

Reconciliation Work.

Some of the old time Republicans assert that Jim Mann as minority leader is doing his share toward reconciling the factions of the Republican party. He made no distinction between regulars and near insurgents when he made up the Republican membership of committees. Many good committee places fell to men who did not support the regular organization during the last term of Mann as minority leader. Mann was particularly kind to Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa members, who have in times past shown a disposition to "jump the track" when the organization was hard pressed.

Keeping His Temper.

Senator Borah has been successful in getting legislation enacted because he remains calm and never seems to be peeved at the opposition tactics of other senators who may be opposing him. "That is what I learned when practicing law," said the Idaho senator. "When I was young and had more time to watch trials than participate in them I observed that the lawyers who kept their temper, refused to get angry and excited were more successful than the petulant, irascible men. I have always made it a point to preserve an outward exterior, although at times it is very trying."

What Pence Is Doing.

I asked Tom Pence, the man who gained fame as the publicity man of the Wilson campaign, what the organization over which he was exercising supervisory direction was doing. It was supposed to be working for future Democratic success and improving the organization. "Principally we are trying to get money," replied Pence, "and that is pretty hard in an off year. We don't want to assess officeholders, and there seems to be no other source of revenue."

MILLIONS FOR STEEL CITY

Trust Head Says $20,000,000 Will Be Spent Near Duluth.

Duluth, July 9.—President James A. Farrell of the United States Steel corporation and his party of steel men and their wives returned from an inspection of the corporation's mine lease on the Minnesota ranges. An inspection of the new plant outside of Duluth was made. "We will expend $20,000,000 altogether on the Duluth plant," said Mr. Farrell. "In addition to a model town at Gary we will build a $2,000,000 cement plant, with a capacity of 40,000 barrels a day as a side line."

INSPECTORS WILL LOOK OVER PLANTS

Three Professors to Inspect Packing Concerns.

Washington, July 9.—Meat packing establishments throughout the country are to be subjected to searching inspections by well known experts selected by the secretary of agriculture from outside of the government service. This step follows criticism of federal meat inspection from various sources and Secretary Houston announced that its object was to increase the efficiency of the service and to foster public confidence. The secretary made public the names of three college professors who have been chosen to report to him personally upon conditions existing in packing plants in New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Illinois and Missouri.

The premium list for the sixth annual fair of the Crow Wing Agricultural society to be held at Pequot on September 18, 19 and 20, has been issued. The premiums offered are attractive and the people of the county should take an interest in the coming fair and make it one of the best ever held in this section of the state. There is no reason why the Crow Wing county fair should not take first rank.

The young women at Madison, Wis., have taken to wearing men's bathing suits and they are classed with "September Morn" and have been told to either put on sufficient clothing so as not to attract a mob of men when they go in bathing in front of the fraternity houses who tramp down the grass and have become a nuisance, or keep out of the water. The police have been appealed to.

A. H. Turrittin, of Sauk Rapids, has been elected treasurer of the State Agricultural society, succeeding E. L. Mattson, who resigned the position a month ago. The selection of the Sauk Rapids gentleman will be exceedingly pleasing to his many friends in the northern part of the state, and the public in general who take an interest in state fair matters will be pleased to learn that so estimable a gentleman has been placed in the office.

The paving of Sixth street, now under course of construction near the Northern Pacific depot, should be extended to the park, a distance of two blocks. This is one of the things that Brainerd could do without any considerable expense that would add to the looks of the city, and would be appreciated by pedestrians and owners of vehicles, and would give the strangers who get on and off the trains at the station by the hundreds a right impression of one of the growing centers of population. Instead of a wrong one to start with. Let's have the cement paving extended to the park, we doubt if there is a property owner on the line who would object.

The premium list for the sixth annual fair of the Crow Wing Agricultural society to be held at Pequot on September 18, 19 and 20, has been issued. The premiums offered are attractive and the people of the county should take an interest in the coming fair and make it one of the best ever held in this section of the state. There is no reason why the Crow Wing county fair should not take first rank.

The young women at Madison, Wis., have taken to wearing men's bathing suits and they are classed with "September Morn" and have been told to either put on sufficient clothing so as not to attract a mob of men when they go in bathing in front of the fraternity houses who tramp down the grass and have become a nuisance, or keep out of the water. The police have been appealed to.

A. H. Turrittin, of Sauk Rapids, has been elected treasurer of the State Agricultural society, succeeding E. L. Mattson, who resigned the position a month ago. The selection of the Sauk Rapids gentleman will be exceedingly pleasing to his many friends in the northern part of the state, and the public in general who take an interest in state fair matters will be pleased to learn that so estimable a gentleman has been placed in the office.

The paving of Sixth street, now under course of construction near the Northern Pacific depot, should be extended to the park, a distance of two blocks. This is one of the things that Brainerd could do without any considerable expense that would add to the looks of the city, and would be appreciated by pedestrians and owners of vehicles, and would give the strangers who get on and off the trains at the station by the hundreds a right impression of one of the growing centers of population. Instead of a wrong one to start with. Let's have the cement paving extended to the park, we doubt if there is a property owner on the line who would object.

Minnesota Central Railway and City
Attorney M. E. Ryan Planning
Formal Application

READY FOR ACTION MONDAY

Council Will Then Receive the Company's Application Complete
as to Legal Forms

R. M. Hughes, general counsel of the Minnesota Central Railway Co., will arrive in Brainerd on the midnight train Wednesday from Duluth.
He will meet M. E. Ryan, city attorney, at the latter's office at nine o'clock Thursday morning and they will confer over the legal points involved in the franchise the company is seeking to build a street railway in Brainerd, to be followed by a high-power electric line connecting Brainerd with all the principal towns on the Cuyuna iron range.

George Reid, president of the company, will remain in Brainerd until after the meeting of the council next Monday night. He will be joined in a few days by Joseph Ferrier,
the railroad contractor of Duluth,
who is vice president and treasurer of the company. Mr. Reid said to The Dispatch this afternoon:

"It is our intention to have our formal application to the council for the franchise framed and ready for submission to the council on Monday night by Mr. Hughes. He will consult with Mr. Ryan upon every section of the proposed franchise and will endeavor to frame it so as to meet Mr. Ryan's approval on all legal points. Such a course will save much of the council's time, remove the necessity of referring the application to a committee and bring the matter at once, ready for action,
before the whole council.

"Both city and county officials want to know the exact condition of the bridge over the Mississippi river.
In a few years, in case we obtain a franchise in Brainerd, we may want to extend the street car line to cross that bridge. Therefore, we are interested in knowing whether the bridge will carry street cars. As I told the members of the council on Monday night, we are willing to pay for the examination of the bridge by an engineering expert and to that end I have written to Mr. George M.
Huss, of the Soo Line, asking him to come to Brainerd and report upon the bridge. Mr. Huss was chief engineer in the construction work of the Cuyuna Range railroad and the other lines the Soo has built into Duluth.
He built the railroad into Jerusalem
and has built railroads over mountains in South America. He is one of the best-known railroad builders
in the world and an expert bridge engineer."

The Duluth Herald and twin city dailies had stories of considerable length Tuesday night concerning the proposed electric system radiating from Brainerd. During the past month Brainerd has been advertised
all over the northwest as the result of the plans of the Minnesota Central Railroad company. Real estate is looking up and Brainerd is beginning to benefit already.

Our Dryroom

This is a highly heated cabinet in which we dry your collars, cuffs, shirts and other starched goods. A motor drives the conveyor on which your laundry hangs. One revolution of the chain is sufficient to dry and sterilize your clothes. Steam heated, and hence no chance to scorch anything.

Just another of the many devices we will employ in our efforts to do your laundering well and to safeguard it in the doing.

BAND CONCERT

Brainerd City Band Plays at Depot
Park Grounds at Eight O'clock Tonight

The Brainerd city band gives the following program at 8 o'clock tonight at the depot park:
March—"Kaiser Frederick"

Overture—"Poet and Peasant"

Humoresque—"Oh, That Navajo Rag"

Reverie—"Romanse of a Rose"

Waltzes—"Perfume of the Violet"

"A Hungarian Rag" — J. Lenzberg

Selection from "The Goddess of Liberty" — Jos. Howard

March—"Stars and Stripes Forever"

There is variety enough in the selection to please the most critical.
Suppe's sweet melodies are heard in the classical score of the "Poet and Peasant." The "Kaiser Fredrick" march has the swing of the German military music, the orchestration for the bases being especially pleasing.

The program concludes with John Philip Sousa's inspiring march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever." Sousa is the uncrowned march king of America and his genius is evident in this contribution to American music.

itself into a mighty pitcher's battle.
If Brainerd plays the kind of ball
it put up when opposed to Akeley, it will be in championship form and will dispose of the down river team. Little Falls—as lost but a few games this season and one of these was to Brainerd at this point. They retaliated by beating Brainerd when the team visited their town.

ROAD WORK
IN THIS COUNTY

This Year Marks the First Year of Systematic Road Work in Crow
Wing County

L. E. GARRISON, DISTRICT ENGR.

The Work Upon the State Roads Will Extend Well Along Until Fall
of Year

The year 1913 marks the first year of systematic road work in Crow Wing county. The county does all its own work and under the supervision of L. E. Garrison, district engineer.
Three road foremen have been appointed and they, with their men and teams, are busily engaged in the work of improving the highways in accordance with instructions from the state highway commission.

L. E. Garrison, in a short interview, said: "We have a crew dressing, planing and clearing State Road
No. 2 from Brainerd to a point 6 miles east.

"State Road No. 1 has been practically graded from the Gruenhagen
corner, i. e. city limits of Brainerd, 3 miles south. This road is through a boulder, clay formation and when complete will make a fine road and a good thing for Brainerd as it leads into some of the best farm lands in the county.

"State Road No. 4 leads south from Brainerd along the St. Paul & Northern Pacific railway, which, when complete, will give a through line to Barrows, Little Falls, St. Cloud and so on to the Twin Cities. We have got about 4 miles graded and are now macadamizing about one mile of it with a three coat of crushed rock surface 14 feet wide.

"Work will soon be begun upon State Roads No's. 3 and 5. No. 3 extends from Brainerd to Merrifield.
No. 5 runs from Deerwood to Bay
Lake and thence south to a connection with the Brainerd-Moose Lake Elwell highway.

"The work upon state roads in this county will extend well along until fall as Crow Wing county is desirous of doing a good season's work."

A steel and cement bridge is to be put in on State Road No. 1 according to plans and specifications of the state highway commission. Crushed rock is being received from the state reformatory at St. Cloud. The rock costs nothing except the freight. 9 cars were received at Barrows Tuesday afternoon. The roads built are giving good satisfaction.

A meeting of the merchants, clerks and professional men of the city was called for 7:30 Thursday evening at the H. W. Linnemann store to perfect arrangements for the coming Merchants and Clerks' picnic, to be held on August 6, the first Wednesday in August.

In 1911 they held their picnic in Merrifield and last year Deerwood entertained them. It is said Deer-wood is anxious to have them come again.

A large meeting is desired for Thursday evening and all are asked to be present so as to gain a general expression of opinion as to where this year's picnic is to be held.

Lucas-Mayer

George W. Lucas, of Brainerd, and Miss Ada Mayer, of Bemidji, were married at the home of the bride's parents in Bemidji on July 5. The pleasing ceremony was performed by Rev. Father John J. Thilippi, at the parsonage, in the presence of relatives and friends.

The bride wore a blue traveling suit and a white picture hat. Her bridesmaid was Mrs. J. K. Stanland.
The best man was George Mayer, a brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucas arrived in Brainerd on Sunday morning and will visit for some time with Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mutch. Mr. Lucas is a foreman in the employ of the Northwestern Telephone Exchange company and has charge of a crew at Monticello. The bride has a large circle of acquaintances in Bemidji and was very popular there. The happy couple will make their home in Brainerd.

The Dispatch joins their many friends in wishing them all possible happiness and prosperity.

Funeral This Afternoon

Under a Fargo dateline the following item appears in the Pioneer Press: "John Armstrong, proprietor of two cafeterias here, dropped dead today of heart disease. The funeral will be at Brainerd tomorrow. Armstrong was formerly in the restaurant and catering business in Duluth and Brainerd before coming here six years ago."

STORE-CLOSING CIRCUS DAY

Petition Circulated to Close From 1 to 5:30 p. m., Remaining Open then until 10 p. m.

Friday, July 25, is Barnum and Bailey circus day in Brainerd. One performance, and that in the afternoon, will be given. All of Brainerd and Crow Wing county will be at the show grounds that afternoon and very little business will be transacted those hours in the city.

A petition is being circulated to close the Brainerd stores from 1 to 5:30 p. m., opening again at 5:30 and remaining open until 10 p. m.

This will enable the farmers as well as city people to see the show and then do their shopping afterwards.

The plan benefits everybody concerned and the circus gains many who would otherwise be unable to see the big performance.

THE PRIZES IN THE SPORTS

Dance at Peck's Hall July 12—The Work at the Barrows Mine
—Other News

Barrows, July 9—The Fourth of July celebration was pulled off successfully in spite of the oad weather conditions. Rain fell in torrents at intervals, for the greater part of the afternoon.

A good sized crowd from the surrounding country, from Crow Wing, Fort Ripley, St. Mathias and Brainerd had come to take part in the celebration, but was forced on account of the rain to keep inside of halls and stores. The Graham band, of Brainerd, furnished the music for the day,
sometimes playing at the grand stand, other times on street corners.
When the rain threatened to fill the horn of the tuba player, the band retired to Peck's big hall and the crowd followed and enjoyed a most pleasant time dancing both afternoon and evening, the dance continuing until 2 o'clock the next morning.

A big dance will be given at Peck's
new hall on Saturday evening, July 12 on request of those who attended the dance given there July 4th.

At the Barrows mine everything is now progressing very satisfactorily.
The water has been pumped out to the very bottom of the shaft and the work underground will from now on be resumed and more men will be put to work and another big pump will be installed. It is expected that no more delay will be experienced from water.

Linoleums make the best covering for kitchen and bath room floors to be had. They are even better than hard wood floors from the fact that they are not so hard to care for and easier to keep clean.

We call your attention to our inlaid linoleums, 6 feet wide, special at 87½c the square yard.

Regular qualities of linoleums at 60c and 65c the square yard.

Minneapolis Central Railway and City
Attorney M. E. Ryan Planning
Formal Application

READY FOR ACTION MONDAY

Council Will Then Receive the Com-
pany's Application Complete
as to Legal Forms

R. M. Hughes, general counsel of the Minnesota Central Railway Co., will arrive in Brainerd on the mid-night train Wednesday from Duluth. He will meet M. E. Ryan, city attorney, at the latter's office at nine o'clock Thursday morning and they will confer over the legal points involved in the franchise the company is seeking to build a street railway in Brainerd, to be followed by a high-power electric line connecting Brainerd with all the principal towns on the Cuyuna iron range.

George Reid, president of the company, will remain in Brainerd until after the meeting of the council next Monday night. He will be joined in a few days by Joseph Ferrier, the railroad contractor of Duluth, who is vice president and treasurer of the company. Mr. Reid said to The Dispatch this afternoon:

"It is our intention to have our formal application to the council for the franchise framed and ready for submission to the council on Monday night by Mr. Hughes. He will consult with Mr. Ryan upon every section of the proposed franchise and will endeavor to frame it so as to meet Mr. Ryan's approval on all legal points. Such a course will save much of the council's time, remove the necessity of referring the application to a committee and bring the matter at once, ready for action, before the whole council.

"Both city and county officials want to know the exact condition of the bridge over the Mississippi river. In a few years, in case we obtain a franchise in Brainerd, we may want to extend the street car line to cross that bridge. Therefore, we are interested in knowing whether the bridge will carry street cars. TWO CHILDREN IN RUNAWAY

Little Falls, July 8—Two children were imperiled in runaways yesterday. Verne, the 12 year old son of J. W. Hinote, living south of the city, suffered a deep scalp wound and bruises when a team he was driving hitched to a hay rack, ran away, throwing him into the teeth. Louis, aged six, son of Wm. Batters, of this city, was thrown out of a delivery wagon when it overturned and was covered with eggs, kerosene and other articles from the load.

The Little Falls Gun club held its first shoot of the season today. R. L. Palmer, proprietor of the Hotel Buckman, as high man with a score of 23 out of a possible 25. Little Falls has some good shots and the club plans to enter a team in competition with other Minnesota cities.

BLUE AND GRAY GETTYSBURG

Survivors of Great Battle
Now Are but a Few Thousands.

FOR months the eyes of the country have been focused on Gettysburg. North and south, east and west, have vied with each other to do honor in fitting fashion to the veterans of the great battle, fought fifty years ago, who gather there and to those others who for half a century have answered no earthly roll call or whose names are inscribed in the roster of those who have passed on in the intervening years.

Seventy thousand grim men in gray and 80,000 equally determined men in blue gathered in the green fields around that tiny hamlet in southern Pennsylvania half a century ago to battle for what each believed was right. Battle rent banners proclaiming past valor fluttered along their ranks as they hastened toward each other over the dusty country roads, and cannon, saber and bayonet rumbled and

HIS CRUTCHES COULDN'T KEEP HIM AWAY. flashed through the quiet hill passes as the hurrying hosts were arrayed by their generals for one of the greatest battles in martial history—to us by all odds the greatest.

Of this vast host a handful, hardly enough to make a division in those mighty days of long ago, 5,000 men who wore the gray and a scant thousand of the veterans of the blue, have been found who are able to revisit the scene of their former glories. The never fading, remorseless whirled of time has revolved for five decades of ever broadening amity over historic Gettysburg and over those who participated in the great struggle there, but it has left few to tell at first hand the heroic incidents of the struggle.

Of these valiant veterans some are but sixty-five years of age, and the celebrated battle was fought half a century ago! Some are men near the hundred year mark, for they were of middle age when they followed the drumbeat of 1863. Some are bent nearly double with infirmities, and some have to be wheeled about in invalid chairs.

Show the Old Spirit.

But of them all, whether feeble and faltering with their advanced years or crippled and maimed with old time wounds, not one is less stern of eye or mien or weaker in patriotic purpose than when he marched into Pennsylvania that long ago June day to the strains of "Dixie" or "The Star Spangled Banner."

They came from all parts of the republic, those stout hearted warriors of fifty years ago, to fight their wonderful battle. Seventeen northern states were the homes of Union men and ten southern commonwealths the native birth of the Confederates.

They of the gray descended from the north in 1863, although their homes and general supply base were in the southland. One week before—June 22, 1863—their great commander, Lee, had ordered his Second army corps leader, Lieutenant General Richard S. Ewell to cross the border of the Keystone State. This he speedily did with 20,000 men eager for invasion, and by the night of June 28, 1863, these troops had occupied Chambersburg, Carlisle and York with their advance artillery, pointing their cannon at Harrisburg, from the opposite side of the Susquehanna river. They felt that Pennsylvania's capital would surrender to them within the coming week and were confident the close of July would find them in possession of Philadelphia. But just as they were reaching forth for these rich prizes they were ordered to withdraw. Lee's invasion had been interrupted, and the Confederate commander was forced to turn Ewell's corps right about and hurry it southward toward Gettysburg. Thus marching he faced his Union foes and invited battle rather than risk an attack in his rear.

Before the Battle.

They of the blue—the oft defeated but undismayed Army of the Potomac—came up from the south, led by Major General George G. Meade, who had superseded General Joseph Hooker in the command only the day before. So it came that on that 29th of June morning fifty years ago the first order of the new Union leader was one urging the swiftest possible pursuit of the Army of Northern Virginia, flushed with its recent successes at Bull Run, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville and now in the north invading a Union state. The Federal troops were eager to do battle for the first time on their own soil. Their progress from their starting points at Harpers Ferry and Frederick was retarded somewhat, however, because of wary maneuvering necessary to the keeping of a barrier of bayonets between the gray invading enemy and the Washington capitol dome in the near distance.

It is hard for the man who has never "smelled powder" to realize the peculiar and the full significance of this mighty reunion. Can we who have had no share in the terrific battle understand the complex feelings of the grizzled veteran who clasps the hand of the very man who raised his saber to deal him a deathblow? Think of linking arms with the particular man who spilled your blood and feeling kind toward him and fraternizing with the one time demon zouave who bayoneted you so you were left weltering in your gore and thought he had served you quite right!

A Historic Rallying Ground.

Yet these are the very things that make Gettysburg again the rallying ground of the followers of Meade, Sickles and Hancock and Lee, Longstreet and Pickett, as well as of the other thousands of brave veterans who took no part in the battle there, but gave their meed of blood and service to the cause they loved during four years of bitter strife.

Facts and figures are not yet available as to the exact number of veterans taking part in the celebration, but the number is sure to be well in excess of 40,000 and may even pass the 50,000 mark. These and the thousands of sightseers make a host far greater even than that of the two mighty armies that battled there.

And what a difference between the Gettysburg of 1913 and the Gettysburg of 1863!

There was no preparation for the arrival of the blue and the gray fifty years ago. The countryside, soon to reverberate to the boom of cannon, the shriek of shrapnel, the groans of the wounded and dying and the hoarse cries of men in heat of battle, lay quiet under the summer sun or the silent stars. Only the subdued noises of wood and field preceded the measured tread of the hosts that soon would clash amid those peaceful surroundings. Men rested or ate as they could, on the bare ground or behind some hastily constructed breastwork, if they rested or ate at all. The grim, black cloud of war hung over the land.

The Gettysburg of 1913.

What a contrast to this picture the Gettysburg of 1913 presents! For weeks the government and the state of Pennsylvania have left nothing undone which would make for the comfort and health of their honored guests. Upward of 5,000 tents, each capable of holding twelve men, but destined to hold only eight, were erected and separate cots for each veteran supplied. Every modern agency was employed by the government to conserve the health of the old soldiers, and extraordinary care was taken to insure the best medical, sanitary and commissary arrangements. For this purpose all the available surgeons connected with the department of the east were ordered to Gettysburg; two large field hospitals were equipped and also three infirmaries. Quantities of hospital material were shipped from various government depots, and the Red Cross, White Cross and other relief societies sent nurses and surgeons to aid in the work of conserving the health of the tented community.

The Camp Arrangement.

The camp itself was laid out under the direction of the regular army. It is about a mile and a half long by half a mile wide and skirts the actual battlefield. Immediately adjoining it a great tent, capable of seating nearly

"GREETING, COMRADE!"

15,000 people, is erected as a gathering ground for the veterans and for the various exercises of the celebration.

The camp is laid out by states, in order to facilitate identification and simplify such matters as the delivery of mail and the finding of any particular group by visitors or veterans from other states. Each veteran on reporting to the officer in charge receives an identification tag, which he carries during the reunion. This tag will give his name in full, the name of his nearest kin, his home and street address, height and weight and the name of the veteran organization with which he is affiliated.

The Equipment.

The equipment of the sleeping tents for the veterans includes 41,640 cots, 40,000 blankets, 10,000 wash basins, 11,350 candle burning lanterns, 60,000 wax candles and 6,000 galvanized iron drinking water buckets. The total weight of this equipment is 1,342,607 pounds, and the total value approximately $226,000. The hauling of the tentage and equipment, together with the baggage of the veterans, is estimated at $15,000.

The kitchen outfits weigh 135,644 pounds, and the weight of rations estimated as necessary is over 1,000,000 pounds. Forty thousand mess kits and more were provided by the government, and this means at least 40,000 enameled plates and an equal number of knives, forks, teaspoons and cups.

The commissary department as provided by Uncle Sam consists of one chief commissary, ten commissary sergeants, four commissary clerks, 1,600 cooks and cooks' helpers and 130 bakers. General Sharpe, commissary general of the army, before the celebration figured that the cost of the four days' rations would be $51,063; the wages of cooks, helpers and bakers, $27,990, while the mess kits would add to this total about $10,000. Add to this $534 for one field bakery, $1,084 for 400 army ranges and the railroad fares of the commissary force, and the total cost of the commissary equipment and service amounts to $112,169.

The Water Supply.

In order to provide an adequate water supply the government expended at the Gettysburg camp about $44,000. The lighting of the streets of the tented camps cost about $6,000, while the rakes, spades, brooms, garbage cans and other utensils needed in the proper sanitation of the camp adds still another item of about $1,500.

So it came that on that 29th of June morning fifty years ago the first order of the new Union leader was one urging the swiftest possible pursuit of the Army of Northern Virginia, flushed with its recent successes at Bull Run, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville and now in the north invading a Union state. The Federal troops were eager to do battle for the first time on their own soil. Their progress from their starting points at Harpers Ferry and Frederick was retarded somewhat, however, because of wary maneuvering necessary to the keeping of a barrier of bayonets between the gray invading enemy and the Washington capitol dome in the near distance.

It is hard for the man who has never "smelled powder" to realize the peculiar and the full significance of this mighty reunion. Can we who have had no share in the terrific battle understand the complex feelings of the grizzled veteran who clasps the hand of the very man who raised his saber to deal him a deathblow? Think of linking arms with the particular man who spilled your blood and feeling kind toward him and fraternizing with the one time demon zowave who bayoneted you so you were left weltering in your gore and thought he had served you quite right!

A Historic Rallying Ground.

Yet these are the very things that make Gettysburg again the rallying ground of the followers of Meade, Sickles and Hancock and Lee, Longstreet and Pickett, as well as of the other thousands of brave veterans who took no part in the battle there, but gave their meed of blood and service to the cause they loved during four years of bitter strife.

Facts and figures are not yet available as to the exact number of veterans taking part in the celebration, but the number is sure to be well in excess of 40,000 and may even pass the 50,000 mark. These and the thousands of sightseers make a host far greater even than that of the two mighty armies that battled there.

And what a difference between the Gettysburg of 1913 and the Gettysburg of 1863! There was no preparation for the arrival of the blue and the gray fifty years ago. The countryside, soon to reverberate to the boom of cannon, the shriek of shrapnel, the groans of the wounded and dying and the hoarse cries of men in heat of battle, lay quiet under the summer sun or the silent stars. Only the subdued noises of wood and field preceded the measured tread of the hosts that soon would clash amid those peaceful surroundings. Men rested or ate as they could, on the bare ground or behind some hastily constructed breastwork, if they rested or ate at all. The grim, black cloud of war hung over the land.

The Gettysburg of 1913.

What a contrast to this picture the Gettysburg of 1913 presents?

For weeks the government and the state of Pennsylvania have left nothing undone which would make for the comfort and health of their honored guests. Upward of 5,000 tents, each capable of holding twelve men, but destined to hold only eight, were erected and separate cots for each veteran supplied.

Every modern agency was employed by the government to conserve the health of the old soldiers, and extraordinary care was taken to insure the best medical, sanitary and commissary arrangements. For this purpose all the available surgeons connected with the department of the east were ordered to Gettysburg; two large field hospitals were equipped and also three infirmaries. Quantities of hospital material were shipped from various government depots, and the Red Cross, White Cross and other relief societies sent nurses and surgeons to aid in the work of conserving the health of the tented community.

The Camp Arrangement.

The camp itself was laid out under the direction of the regular army. It is about a mile and a half long by half a mile wide and skirts the actual battlefield. Immediately adjoining it a great tent, capable of seating nearly

15,000 people, is erected as a gathering ground for the veterans and for the various exercises of the celebration.

The camp is laid out by states, in order to facilitate identification and simplify such matters as the delivery of mail and the finding of any particular group by visitors or veterans from other states. Each veteran on reporting to the officer in charge receives an identification tag, which he carries during the reunion. This tag will give his name in full, the name of his nearest of kin, his home and street address, height and weight and the name of the veteran organization with which he is affiliated.

The Equipment.

The equipment of the sleeping tents for the veterans includes 41,640 cots, 40,000 blankets, 10,000 wash basins, 11,350 candle burning lanterns, 60,000 wax candles and 6,000 galvanized iron drinking water buckets. The total weight of this equipment is 1,342,607 pounds, and the total value approximates $226,000. The hauling of the tentage and equipment, together with the baggage of the veterans, is estimated at $15,000.

The kitchen outfits weigh 135,644 pounds, and the weight of rations estimated as necessary is over 1,000,000 pounds. Forty thousand mess kits and more were provided by the government, and this means at least 40,000 enameled plates and an equal number of knives, forks, teaspoons and cups.

The commissary department as provided by Uncle Sam consists of one chief commissary, ten commissary sergeants, four commissary clerks, 1,600 cooks and cooks' helpers and 130 bakers. General Sharpe, commissary general of the army, before the celebration figured that the cost of the four days' rations would be $51,663; the wages of cooks, helpers and bakers, $27,390, while the mess kits would add to this total about $10,000. Add to this $534 for one field bakery, $1,084 for 400 army ranges and the railroad fares of the commissary force, and the total cost of the commissary equipment and service amounts to $112,169.

The Water Supply.

In order to provide an adequate water supply the government expended at the Gettysburg camp about $44,000. The lighting of the streets of the tented camps cost about $6,000, while the rakes, spades, brooms, garbage cans and other utensils needed in the proper sanitation of the camp adds still another item of about $1,500.
